ABINGDON PASSION PLAY BACK FOR 2016

• Abingdon School teenager Chris Young as Jesus during Abingdon's first passion play in 2013

By Alex Ballinger

THE death and resurrection of Jesus will be staged in the town for the second time next year with the return of the Abingdon Passion Play.

The inaugural passion play in 2013 recounted the final days of Jesus Christ to a crowd of more than 1,000 people in a free outdoor production at Abbey Gardens.

Since its success organisers have raised more than £10,000 and are on the hunt for a new actor to play Jesus.

The play's producer Sarah Jones said: "I'm very excited about it. Obviously we've got a few challenges ahead but that's what makes it fun.

"The one in 2013 was extremely popular.

"It's a great community effort and involves loads of people behind the scenes.

"As the producer I'll be handling the logistical side and making sure everyone is doing their jobs.

The 2013 spectacle had a cast of more than 200 people from schools, churches, businesses and community groups.

Organisers are now also in the process of finding actors and volunteers to contribute to the spectacle.

Auditions are to be held at the Peachcroft Christian Centre in Lindsay Drive next month.

Jobs losses as hospital kitchens shut for cuts

By Loughlan Campbell

DESPITE opposition from campaigners and councillors the remaining four Oxfordshire community hospital kitchens have been closed.

The move means 15 members of staff lost their jobs.

Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust confirmed yesterday they closed the kitchens at Wantage, Didcot, Wallingford and Witney hospitals in the last two months in order to save the trust around £300,000 a year.

Instead frozen ready meals are being served to patients.

In May the Guardian reported campaigners submitted a petition signed by 474 people to the trust against the plans to shut the kitchens.

The trust subsequently never ran a public consultation on the plans to cut the kitchens and campaigner and Oxfordshire County Councillor Jenny Hannaby said she is concerned about what the trust's 'back-up plan' is.

Cllr Hannaby said: "I cannot see what more we can do now that the kitchens have been closed but my main concern is, what do we do now in terms of having a back-up plan in place for this programme?

"What will they do if they can't get the service into the hospital?

"Will they go down to the supermarket and buy the patients sandwiches and cake?

"It's a disaster waiting to happen."

Cllr Hannaby, who is also chairman of the Wantage Community Hospital League of Friends, said she has already heard that the cook-chill service had already been late in a delivery to the hospital in Garston Lane.

She added: "This cannot happen, patients are dependent on this service."

In a survey carried out by the campaigners, they found that seven out of 10 people in the area opposed the kitchen's closures.

A spokesperson for the Oxford NHS Foundation Trust, said: "A recent survey showed that our new food service was rated acceptable, good or excellent by 90 per cent of patients.

"The move to cook-chill meals across all our sites gives our patients a consistent quality, with an assured nutritional value and portion size.

"We recognise that food is something about which people can have strong views, but we believe this change will bring overall benefit to our patients."

Oxfordshire's White Horse features in UK culture film

THE White Horse in Uffiington appears in a new film demonstrating the best of England's creativity in a film developed by Arts Council England.

The short one-minute film also features and celebrates literary icon William Shakespeare, music group The Beatles, and graffiti artist Banksy.

The Arts Council England, which is the national development agency for the arts, states the film celebrates 'how art and culture from areas like Oxfordshire has helped to shape communities, broadened horizons and enrich people's lives.'

The White Horse is shown at the 0.33-second mark in the film, in an aerial shot in which the voiceover talks about England's cultural heritage.

The prehistoric hill figure dates back to the Iron Age (800 BC – AD 100) and is found five miles west of Wantage, overlooking the Vale of White Horse district to the north.

The National Trust manages the site and the figure is regarded as a scheduled monument, which protects it under the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979.

Pre-school's bid for a new £100,000 home

By Alex Ballinger

AN Abingdon charity-run pre-school is campaigning for help to fundraise £100,000 for a new building to replace its aging home.

Dumnore Pre-School in Farm Road has so far raised around £50,000 towards its target.

The new building would replace its current one-room base near Fitzharrys School and staff hope it will enable them to open the pre-school up to more youngsters.

The pre-school's manager, Jan Simpson, said: "The building we're in is falling apart.

"We'd like to get an improved building, something to improve things for the children.

"We also need a new office. We don't have one here so there is no where to speak privately to parents."

Dunmore has 37 children on its books and can run sessions for up to 24 at time, but staff are hoping to extend class sizes in a new larger building.

The pre-school is run as a charity so it fundraises for its daily running costs as well as revamps and improvements.

Ms Simpson, who lives in Campion Road, added: "We'll maybe have a new room for younger ones to nap in.

"We've got to get going on it. We've only just started fundraising really."

The pre-school has raised money by holding bake sales, dress up days and also held a fundraising weekend in a nearby supermarket where around £400 was raised.

Chair of the pre-school, Lisa Mayo said: "The building and campaign are very important to give the children a lovely environment for learning.

"A new building would also save us money on maintenance and electricity, especially in the colder months and the extra money can then be put towards new materials, books and toys."

Pre-school assistant Michelle Annells said: "We're all determined to do it.

"If we get a new building there will be less money spent on maintain this one.

"That means more money for facilities for the children."

Auditions to be held for passion play cast

• Continues on page 3

Auditions for both men and women are to be held on Sunday, November 8, then just for men on Monday, November 9, and for women only on Tuesday, November 10.

So far over £11,000 has been raised towards the target £15,000 and the passion play's organisers have turned to the public to help raise a contributory £500.

The £15,000 will pay for the staging, production, lighting, insurance, road closures and direction.

Ms Jones added: "We'll be involving drama groups and local schools.

"Its another exciting event for the town."

A call is also being put out for singers to join the production.

Passion plays have been held since Medieval times and sees a cast of actors dramatise the events leading up to the death and resurrection of Jesus. They are usually amateur productions.

The first Abingdon Passion Play was held on March 24 in 2013 which was Palm Sunday.

It drew in crowds of around 1,200 people and organisers are hoping next year will be bigger and better.

The 2016 passion play is set to take place either on March 13, Palm Sunday, or the previous day, March 12, depending on when road closures can be enforced.

Two performances will be held on the day in and around the town centre.

Church administrator at St Helen's Church in St Helen's Court, Linda Barker said: "I missed the 2013 passion play but I definitely won't be missing next year's.

"I heard it was freezing cold but there was still a great turn out. It's a very powerful story."

Arrest after woman dies in crash on A40

A 19-year-old woman has died after a collision with a car on the A40 on Friday morning between Oxford and Cassington.

A 23-year-old man has been arrested in connection with the incident and was released on bail until October 23.

At around 12.35am a silver Ford Focus traveling along the A40 collided with a pedestrian.

The pedestrian – a 19-year-old woman – died at the scene.

Her next of kin has been informed.

The A40 was closed between the Eynsham roundabout and the Wolvercote roundabout until around 8am.

Detective inspector Steve Raffield, from Thames Valley Police said: "We are dealing with a fatal collision in which a young girl has tragically lost her life."

Investigators examined the scene while the road was closed.

Police are calling for anyone with information about the incident to call 101- in particular anyone who saw the victim or the car prior to the collision.

'Teacher made me sleep in same bed'

By Loughlan Campbell

AN alleged victim of historic sex abuse at a Jewish boarding school in Wallingford claims as a 12-year-old his teacher would 'bang on his bedroom door' unless he slept in the same bed as him.

The man, who cannot be named for legal reasons, was speaking from Auckland in New Zealand via a video link played at Oxford Crown Court on Friday.

He is one of eight men who claim they were abused by Trevor Bolton between 1968 and 1988 while he was a teacher at Carmel School.

Bolton, 78, of Kestrel Way in Clacton-on-Sea in Essex, is facing a total of 25 charges covering a catalogue of abuse.

The alleged victim told a jury of 12 men and women that from the age of 12 Bolton would invite him to his flat where he would play video games, and there was an unlimited supply of chocolate.

He said: "In the beginning, I would pop up to the flat and there would be a bit of cuddling and gradually our interactions increased as he spent more time there.

"He tickled me and then it progressed from there to sexual and physical contact. The first time I had my trousers on and the times after that I didn't."

The alleged victim said he was sexually abused by Bolton on 10 occasions over 10 to 16 months.

The man, now in his mid-40s, said on two occasions Bolton insisted on him joining his teacher in his bed.

He said: "He came to my dormitory, which I shared with a room mate, on two occasions. On one occasion, he was on the edge of the bed, shaking me awake and I was really shocked and got really scared.

"The next time I moved my bed to the door to stop him coming down. He started banging on the door and I got really nervous so I immediately opened the door and went up with him that night."

He said Bolton sent a letter to his father asking to take him on a trip with him. So he and his father had a meeting with the school's headmaster and told him about the abuse.

He said the headmaster told him Bolton had been blacklisted and left the school.

But defence prosecutor Barry Gilbert questioned his version of events.

Mr Gilbert told the man: "You were a student for some years after you claim he left, and that he left the school in 1984.

"Did you know that Mr Bolton actually left the school in 1988?"

The man replied: "That's impossible, you can ask hundreds of people at the school. He was not in the school, you can ask all the teachers, he was not there."

Mr Gilbert told the witness that according to his conversations with the former headmaster, there was never a meeting with the victim, the headmaster, and his father.

Former school pupil Harvey Young, who was at the school between 1982 and 1989, was asked by Mr Gilbert, "When did Mr Bolton leave the school?"

Mr Young said: "Mr Bolton left in 1988. The school never told us the reason why."

Carmel College in Mongewell Park, near Wallingford, closed down in 1997. The trial continues.

Night flying

OXFORDSHIRE: The Thames Valley Air Ambulance will now be able to fly at night, following the delivery of a new helicopter.

The service received the first Airbus H135 aircraft in the country on Monday, which is equipped with night vision capability. Mark McGeown, CEO of Thames Valley Air Ambulance, said: "The improved performance, increased payload and better fuel economy of the H135 combined with night vision capabilities will enable our crews to take the major step into night operations."

The helicopter, based in High Wycombe, flies to emergencies across Oxfordshire.

Flood prevention

OXFORD: More than £2.2 million has been secured for a scheme to stop about 110 properties in Northway and Marston from flooding.

The Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership has given £600,000 to the scheme and a further £1.5m is coming from Environment Agency grants.

The project would build earth bunds and walls by Peasmoor Brook and Headington Hill tributary.

It is due to be discussed at the council's executive board meeting on November 12, and work could start in 2016.

Wheelchair donated for 12-year-old crash victim

By Alex Ballinger

A 12-YEAR-OLD girl from Wantage left partly paralysed after a car crash has spoken her first words despite being told she might never talk again.

Freya Deacon has made huge progress in the seven weeks since a car accident on holiday in Greece triggered two brain haemorrhages and a stroke.

And after a community effort launched last week to rally round and raise £9,000 for a wheelchair for Freya, a Didcot charity stepped forward to donate the funds.

Freya's mum Susi Coulthard, 49, says: "I've found this last week a bit overwhelming.

"She's managed to say a couple of words after they said she'd never speak again.

"I'm still getting my head around what happened to Freya."

Freya, a sister to 21-year-old Connor and seven-year-old Oliver, had been due to start at King Alfred's Academy.

• 12-year-old Freya Deacon from Wantage

She is being treated at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital and Ms Coulthard is hoping she will be able to start at the school next year instead once she is well enough.

Ms Coulthard, a carer, visits Freya every day in hospital.

A campaign launched among Wantage and Grove residents last week to support the family raised more than £700.

Now that Didcot charity Changing Lives has come forward to donate money for a wheelchair, any fundraising will go towards buying a car to fit a wheelchair in and changes that need to be made to Freya's home such as fitting ramps for her to get around.

Ms Coulthard added: "It really shows the community spirit of Wantage.

"We moved back here three years ago and it was the best move we could have made."

Changing Lives is based in Didcot and opened a store in Church Street Wantage around eight weeks ago.

The charity's owner Val Prior said: "We heard about Freya through Facebook. You put yourself in their shoes and you just want to help.

"We didn't ask any questions. We just decided. Now Freya and her mum just need to come in and choose a chair and I'll transfer them the money."

Freya became paralysed down the right side and is having physiotherapy every day to help her recover movement and is hoping to be discharged in November.

She will then receive treatment at a rehabilitation centre in Tadworth, Surrey.

A fundraising Halloween bake sale called This One's For Freya is being held on Wednesday, October 28, from 8am until 4pm outside Peter Ledbury electricals shop in Grove Street.

Stricter rent rules decision

AN Oxford City Council scheme enforcing stricter rules on landlords who want to rent houses to more than two tenants could be extended for another five years.

The Houses in Multiple Occupation (HMO) licensing scheme is an attempt to crackdown on landlords who manage properties badly.

It means they need a special licence to rent to three or more people. Officers inspect the building to check for regulations before a licence is issued.

Adrian Chowns of the council's HMO enforcement team said in his report: "It is clear from the evidence issues the scheme has still not fully addressed the issues relating to poor management and the condition of HMOs. In addition, the evolving and buoyant housing market in Oxford has resulted in the number of HMOs increasing year on year."

During a 10-week consultation in June 53 per cent of respondents strongly agreed there are poorly managed HMOs in Oxford.

The city council, which introduced the new rules in 2011, came under criticism from landlords and estate agents.

The initial application, which costs £712, could increase to £999. The council's executive board is due to decide whether to extend the scheme tonight at Oxford Town Hall from 6pm.

Checks scaled down from 10 to 60 minutes month before death

By Loughlan Campbell

THE consultant psychiatrist of a Headington teenager who drowned in a bath at an NHS unit in Headington has said while the death was 'tragic beyond words', she does not believe there was a failure of care on her part.

Connor Sparrowhawk, 18, drowned after an epileptic seizure at Slade House, in Headington, in July 2013.

At the jury inquest into the teenager's death on Monday at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road, the unit and Connor's consultant psychiatrist, Dr Valerie Murphy, said: "In hindsight, we could have made some different decisions.

"However, with the information that we had at the time and in terms of balancing the pros and cons, I think we made the right decisions at the time.

"I do not believe there was a failure of care on my part."

Sparrowhawk, who had Klinefelter's syndrome and epilepsy, was found unconscious at the unit in July 2013.

He was a student at John Watson School in Wheatley and was diagnosed with epilepsy at 16 before being sectioned at the unit on March 21 in 2013.

On June 3, it was decided by staff at the facility that the observation checks on Connor could drop from every ten minutes to hourly checks.

Connor was an informal patient at the hospital, meaning he could leave the unit if he wanted to.

When Dr Murphy explained the decision to cut down the checks, she said: "I was aware that Connor was informally there at the unit and we would have needed a good reason to keep him on 10-minute checks rather than the hourly ones."

She added: "It was my understanding that he had never had a seizure while he was on the ward."

Connor's care at the unit was also described as one of a 'flattened hierarchy' in which all the staff at the unit had an 'input' into his care but that no-one was in charge of him.

Dr Murphy added: "I would like to say this has been absolutely devastating for everybody and I think about it every day. It was tragic beyond words. At the end of the day, a young man lost his life and I'm sorry about that."

Christmas lights fest

OXFORD: Oxford's Christmas countdown will launch on November 20 with a lantern procession and light show.

A £15,000 cash boost for the celebration was announced on Monday from the Arts Council to Oxford City Council.

The procession is due to start in New Inn Hall Street and make its way through the city centre with 240 youngsters from the city's primary schools, before a light projection finale in Broad Street.

Awareness week

OXON: Thames Valley Police is running a series of activities this week as part of 'National Hate Crime Awareness Week', which was launched on Saturday and ends today.

Neighbourhood teams have been working with community groups to promote understanding of what a hate crime is.

A social media campaign used hashtag #WeStandTogether.

Car crash death

SHRIVENHAM: A 52-year-old man from Faringdon died after a car crash in Longcot Road on Saturday.

Just after 5pm he was driving his silver Lotus Elise towards Shrivenham when it left the road and went into a field through a fence.

The driver was flown to the John Radcliffe hospital in Oxford where he was pronounced dead later the same evening.

Decision due on shipping container pizza restaurant

PLANS for a pop-up stone baked pizza restaurant in a storage container set up outside the entrance to Didcot's Sainsbury's will go under the hammer for a decision by South Oxfordshire District Council next Wednesday.

The temporary pizza restaurant would be assembled next to the amphitheatre-style steps in the Orchard Centre.

Designs show space for tables and seating both inside and outside and a traditional pizza oven.

The planning application was submitted by developers Hammerson, the same developers due to start building work on the £50 million second phase of Didcot's Orchard Centre shopping centre in the coming months.

The plans state that once the extension to Didcot's Orchard Centre is finished, the pizza restaurant would move into one of the restaurant units to be built.

South Oxfordshire District Council's planning officers recommended the plans for approval in a report published on Tuesday.

However Didcot Town Council urged members of SODC's planning committee to reject the proposal as it is 'not in keeping with the street scene'.

The structure itself would be adapted and altered from a 9m by 6m storage container as a temporary unit for up to two years.

The report states: "The use of the building will add to the vibrancy of this part of the Orchard Centre. It will bring wider benefits in terms of choice for consumers and have a positive impact on the local economy in both the short term and the long term."

A decision is to be made by SODC's committee at The Fountain Conference Centre in Howbery Park, Crowmarsh Gifford, at 6pm next Wednesday, October 21.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Suspicious incident

OXFORD: An e-fit has been released after a mum caught a man holding her two-year-old daughter's hand outside a property in Greater Leys.

The toddler had been playing outside in Shepherds Hill at around 6.20pm when the girl's mum went to check on her daughter and found the man with the girl on Friday, September 11.

When the mum then challenged him he ran away.

The man is described as white, in his thirties, about 5 foot 7 or 8 inches, slim with short spiky blond or brown hair. He was wearing a knee length jacket, possibly leather.

Carers conference

OXFORD: More than 100 people gathered for Oxfordshire's first regional Young Carers Conference last Tuesday.

Health service and school staff, police and social care professionals were at The King's Centre in Osney Mead.

Hosted by Oxfordshire County Council and Spurgeons children's charity, the conference ran workshops and presentations on issues affecting children who care for a family member.

An October 2017 opening and new shops confirmed

EXTRA designs of the inside of Oxford's new £440million Westgate shopping centre have been released and two new shops confirmed as the developers revealed it will open in two years' time.

British high street clothes shop River Island and a Sticks'n'Sushi restaurant are the two newest companies signed to open stores in the centre in Oxpens Road in October 2017.

They will join more than 100 other new shops and 25 restaurants - including a John Lewis department store, and Curzon Cinemas.

Managing director of Danish-based Janapese restaurant Sticks'n'Sushi, Andreas Karlsson, said: "When we first came to the UK, Oxford was on our top list of places to be so we're really excited Westgate Oxford will be one of our first restaurants outside London.

"What makes Westgate Oxford a unique destination for us is its positioning of the roof top terrace will have breathtaking views of the famous Oxford city skyline making it the perfect setting."

The new shopping centre will be 800,000 square feet – the size of about ten football pitches.

• A new design of how the inside of Westgate could look, released last week

By Alex Ballinger

The announcement of the new stores means the centre is 31 per cent pre-let with two years left before opening.

Developers, the Westgate Oxford Alliance, had planned for the centre to open in Christmas 2017 but revealed in June work was ahead of schedule.

Around 3,400 retail jobs could potentially be created.

The original Westgate shopping centre and car park opened in 1976. As part of the revamp it will be expanded into four different buildings with a mix of covered streets, arcades, lanes, squares and 11 entrances also included in plans.

Development manager Sara Fuge said: "We are really excited to announce the two year countdown to the opening of Westgate Oxford – it's great so many home-grown and international brands have already committed to being part of the new Centre. Westgate Oxford will be a world-class shopping and leisure destination for a world-class city and we look forward to welcoming everyone to experience it in October 2017."

A two-storey basement car park with between 900 and 1,100 spaces will be created, as well as up to 122 new homes.

Demolition work started on the site in February with the underground car park.

Stores already announced are John Lewis, Curzon Cinemas, H&M, Michael Kors, Superdry, Primark, Next, Schuh, Goldsmiths and now River Island and Sticks'n'Sushi.

Man arrested after sexual assaults on two women

A MAN has been arrested after sexual assaults on two women which police believe are linked.

The 40-year-old man has been bailed until November 18, police announced last Thursday.

A woman in her twenties was waiting outside East Oxford Community Centre in Cowley Road when a man spoke to her and tried to kiss her on the lips before Midnight on Wednesday, September 30.

When she moved away he took her hand and moved it over his clothing before the victim told him to go away.

Another woman also in her twenties was approached by a man near Café Coco in Cowley Road and sexually assaulted on Saturday, October 3, at 2.25am.

She pushed the man away and he left.

Investigating officer detective sergeant Bill Sykes said: "We believe both offences may be linked and would like any witnesses to either incident to speak to police.

"In the first incident at the bus stop, there were other members of the public around when the first victim was sexually assaulted and I would like to speak to these people as they may have information which could assist with enquiries."

Oxford Half Marathon 2015

By Alex Ballinger

THE 2015 Oxford Half Marathon on Sunday did not quite run without a hitch, as delayed trains meant hundreds of racers missed the start and the leader was led the wrong way, forcing him to retire early.

In total 6,156 completed the 13.1-mile route through the city centre, out of 7,500 registered for the race.

But many missed the official start due to delays near Reading of trains from London because of technical problems.

Meanwhile race leader Vincent Boit had to pull out after two miles when he was sent the wrong way because of crowds on the route in Banbury Road.

A statement from organisers GO2 events said: "This has been investigated and we have found that large crowd support in the first couple of miles meant spectators spilt onto the roads.

"Unfortunately this prevented the lead motorbike from taking the correct route but was instantly resolved so that the lead car could continue correctly and all other runners were unaffected."

The race had been delayed by 15 minutes to wait for latecomers on trains, much to the dismay of those at the start line who had already warmed up and were raring to go.

Reports on Twitter said hundreds were stuck on trains from London Paddington station while about 50 people were stuck on the platform at Didcot Parkway while waiting for trains.

However those who reached the start smoothly were treated to ideal running weather and a tour of the city's historic scenery, which took in University Parks and the Radcliffe Camera.

Crowds of thousands drummed up support to urge the runners on.

Steve Naylor from Witney won the race, crossing the finish line in St Giles in one hour 10 minutes and 24 seconds, followed by Dave Bruce from Oxford City Athletics Club ten seconds later.

The fastest woman across the line was Fabienne Amrhein in one hour 15 minutes and 53 seconds.

Jamie Warren from GO2 said: "We are extremely pleased with the performances put on by our runners, supporters and partners at today's event, who all contributed to the electric atmosphere felt in the heart of the city and out on course."

Neville Koopowitz, CEO of sponsors Vitality said: "We were delighted to see so many runners take part in today's Vitality Oxford Half Marathon and congratulations to Steve and Fabienne.

"It was a superb turnout."

• The route took runners past the Radcliffe Camera for the first time

OXFORDSHIRE Guardian reporter Alex Ballinger was among the runners, taking part in his first half marathon.

Months of gruelling training paid off to see him cross the finish line one hour 30 minutes and 37 seconds in 337th place.

He raised £335 for Oxford-based charity KEEN, which runs sports and social clubs for people with disabilities.

Rapist's friend tried to harm girl's reputation

By Alex Ballinger

A TEENAGE rapist from Oxford who 'destroyed the young victim's life' was jailed for seven and a half years on Thursday.

Nathan Oghene, 18, of Abingdon Road, was convicted at Oxford Crown Court for raping a 19-year-old girl in February.

And his friend was also jailed - for 16 months - after sending an anonymous letter to her boss making 'malicious allegations' to undermine her character ahead of the court trial.

• Luke Howarth

While sentencing Oghene Judge Peter Ross said: "Suffice it to say it destroyed this woman's life.

"She lost her job, she lost her life. The immediate impact on her was obvious. She was utterly distraught.

"You were taking advantage of someone who was incapable of resisting."

During a drinking session at a house in Oxford city centre overnight, the victim was put to bed by a friend after having drunk too much alcohol.

Oghene went into the room and raped her.

The victim feigned sleep out of fear and then pushed him away and ran out of the room, Judge Ross said.

He was found guilty by a unanimous jury at the same court on August 14 after a five-day trial.

Judge Ross added: "You hold negative views of women in particular and of society in general."

The court heard Oghene's dad was in prison when he was born and his mother did not want to raise him so he lived with his aunt.

Oghene was then sent to Nigeria aged nine to live with his grandmother, and after finishing school aged 14 he was flown to Heathrow alone and was taken into care.

> "He foolishly tried to interfere

In a related case, which could not be reported until Oghene's sentencing had been carried out, another man was sentenced to 16 months in jail and ordered to pay a £100 victim surcharge.

Luke Howarth, 26, of Fount Street in Lambeth, London, pleaded guilty to perverting the course of justice at Oxford Crown Court on September 21.

Howarth sent a letter to the victim's employer in the months leading up to Oghene's trial in an attempt to damage her reputation.

Investigating officer, Detective Constable George Atkinson ,of Oxford Force CID, said: "He foolishly tried to interfere with proceedings of such a serious nature with the view that he was trying to help his friend Oghene, and has been punished for it."

He added: "I am pleased with the sentences and hope the closure of these two cases now allows the victim to move on with her life."

New fitness project for over 60s

RESIDENTS living in rural parts of South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse aged 60 or over can try taster sessions of various sports as part of a new £227,000 scheme launching in January.

The Go Active Gold project will see activities including dance, tai chi, table tennis and golf, hosted at sports clubs in towns and villages.

The project, funded by Sport England, will run for three years by Vale of White Horse and South Oxfordshire District Councils (SODC).

SODC's cabinet member for leisure, Anna Badcock, said: "We are absolutely delighted to receive this funding. Being active is vital at this age and by exercising we can help reduce the years confined to an armchair."

Vale's cabinet member for leisure, Charlotte Dickson added: "This project will ensure opportunities are available for older people in the rural areas to get active."

Taster sessions will be held in Kingston Bagpuize, Steventon, Woodcote, Watlington, Chalgrove, and Sutton Courtney among other places. Dates, times and locations have not yet been announced.

PM's generation rent fix comes under fire

By Loughlan Campbell

PRIME Minister and Witney MP David Cameron's plans for 'starter homes' have faced criticism from Oxford's leaders who claim the plans will make the city's housing crisis even worse.

The Prime Minister made the announcement at his keynote speech in the Conservative Party Conference in Manchester last Wednesday.

He spoke about trying to help 'generation' rent become 'generation buy'.

The scheme will mean 200,000 first-time buyers, who must be aged under 40, will be able to buy new homes or flats at a 20 per cent discount.

The leader of the Conservative Party said: "Today I can announce a dramatic shift in housing policy in our country, the old rules where we said to developers you can build on this site but only if you could build affordable homes for rent, we will now replace with new rules.

"The new rules will say you can build here and those affordable homes can be available to buy, from generation rent to generation buy."

For buyers to apply, they cannot have owned their own home previously and will not be able to sell or rent the properties for their full market value for five years.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price, said: "This policy might be welcomed by the very few people who are both eligible and can afford it.

"But in Oxford it will mean fewer homes for affordable rent.

"When combined with the government's policies on right to buy and forcing councils to sell council homes, reducing our ability to require homes for affordable rent means we won't be able to build the homes desperately needed by key workers and the 3,500 people on our housing waiting list."

> In Oxford it will mean fewer homes for affordable rent

Only 22 Oxford households bought their own home in its first 18 months in the government's help to buy scheme.

Developers have built 873 affordable homes in Oxford in the last decade, 616 of which were for social rent.

Green City councillor Sam Hollick said: "The city council is speaking with one voice on this matter. Affordable housing is the biggest issue in Oxford and recent government policy changes will make this crisis even worse.

"To provide new social housing, the council must also be prepared to revisit ideas that it has previously dismissed, such as looking at where new jobs are located and prioritising homes over hotels."

Spokesman for Generation Rent campaign group, Dan Wilson Craw, said: "Starter homes will do nothing for renters who are really struggling.

"Under the Prime Minister's plans only 200,000 already relatively well-off households will get to buy a home."

Girl walking to bus raped in broad daylight

A 15-YEAR-OLD girl was dragged from a road in Blackbird Leys and raped on a dirt track.

She was walking along Barnes Road between 2pm and 4pm towards a bus stop near Blackbird Leys Bridge when a man grabbed her arm and pulled her down a muddy track next to the bridge.

He raped her and walked away, leaving her on the muddy path on Sunday, September 20.

An investigation was launched by Thames Valley Police after the offence was reported to them last Tuesday.

A 17-year-old boy from Oxford was arrested on Friday on suspicion of rape. He has been bailed until November 22.

Investigating officer, detective inspector Steve Raffield, said: "Specialist officers are supporting the victim who has reported this rape to us. What happened to this young girl is unimaginable and I am sure that members of the public will be shocked to hear about this incident, which happened in broad daylight."

The offender is described as white, in his late teens, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall, with short dark hair, blue eyes, freckles on his face and a short ginger beard. He was wearing a chain around his neck, black trainers and dark grey Nike jogging bottoms.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Paul Potts; the moment that made TV talent show history

By James Richings

IT has been more than eight years since Carphone Warehouse salesman Paul Potts wowed millions of TV viewers with one of the UK's best rags to riches moments.

When he opened his mouth to sing Nessun Dorma during a Britain's Got Talent TV show audition a very sceptical audience was well and truly won over.

Whether to reminisce about one of the TV talent show's greatest moments or to witness the man from Port Talbot's transformation, Paul Potts will be at the New Theatre, Oxford on Wednesday, October 28.

"I really stumbled onto the Britain's Got Talent application form by accident as I pressed the wrong button on a pop up window. And I then flipped a coin to enter," Paul told the Guardian.

"I decided as I had no actual chance of being chosen in my view, it didn't make a difference. So I decided to flip a coin: heads I'd submit the application, tails I would cancel and never think of it again.

• Paul Potts

"Thankfully it landed on heads and I never believed I had a chance of being chosen let alone winning it."

After his rendition of the love song from Puccini's opera Turandot was televised to five million people on June 9, 2007, Paul's shy but likeable persona went on to catch the heartstrings of people worldwide.

The YouTube video's views, have topped 140 million and counting.

Paul has gone onto record four studio albums; of which his debut 'One Chance' reached number one in nine countries, performed sell-out tours all over the world and even had a film created about him.

And the taste of success was particularly sweet for the 45-year-old, who was badly bullied growing up.

Paul got the last laugh.

"Bullies only win if you allow them to and by keeping on going, you are the one that wins," Paul said.

"The bully loses every time you keep looking forward rather than back, and you don't have to become world famous to do this. You can do this in everyday life."

His show at the George Street theatre starts at 7.30pm, and tickets cost £19.90 to £32.90.

He added: "I have performed at New Theatre twice before in 2008 and in 2009.

"It's a lovely theatre to perform in and I am really looking forward to returning.

"On the night, everybody can expect a real mix of music from all four of my albums, plus one or two new items."

A NIGHT of Led Zeppelin and Deep Purple hits will be played at the Marlborough Club in Didcot this Saturday, October 17.

Chekhov's tragicomedy 'The Cherry Orchard'

A WALLINGFORD production of Anton Chekhov's 'The Cherry Orchard' will be grappling with dual themes of calamity and comedy at the Corn Exchange.

By James Richings

Curtains rose for the opening show last night, launching a run of performances by The Sinodun Players until Saturday.

The classic drama set amid the turmoil of 20th Century Russia follows a cash-strapped aristocratic family in a dire financial mess.

Chekhov had described it as a comedy but its first director unveiled it in 1904 as a tragedy.

The Wallingford production's director Erica Harley said: "I love to show doubters that Chekhov has a sense of humour and is replicating real people with real lives and real situations.

"I want to destroy the myth that Chekhov plays are slow, dull and dreary. I believe they are full of life, full of fun and can move one to tears. But are essentially full of hope."

The play focuses on a woman coming to terms with her son's death who arrives home to find the cherry orchard she left behind has bloomed into something beautiful - only to discover the estate might have to be sold.

'The Cherry Orchard' was the last play Chekov wrote before he died of tuberculosis in 1904, six months after it was first performed.

Erica, who has directed eight productions in the last seven years with the Sinodun Players, added: "Everyone can expect to see a strong cast displaying their understanding of these wonderful characters.

"It will be full of light, darkness, comedy and tragedy with genuine characters with real emotional journeys to travel."

The three remaining productions tonight, tomorrow and on Saturday start at 7.45pm.

Tickets cost £10.

Fusion blend of Brooklyn with Canadian folk

AFTER a summer of radio airplay, festivals and touring Europe, Canadian country musician Miriam Jones is back at The Wheatsheaf.

The gig on Tuesday, October 27, will be a more stripped back intimate set than her album launch in February.

Miriam and bass player Simon Edwards will be joined by Brooklyn songwriter, Clarence Bucaro.

"He's agreed with gusto to do a duet with me on the night as well, which is thrilling, and I have a couple of new songs to share," Miriam told the Guardian.

"February's album launch was enjoyed by a full house and as I recall a frisky one at that, but I also consider it my home-crowd, so yes, I'm very happy to be returning."

Since her last visit Miriam has enjoyed a bursting 2015 which has included her moving from Oxford to London.

By James Richings

The country singer, who also performs folk and blues, is writing new material for her next album and preparing to record an EP including some never before released old tracks.

"There's a conundrum in becoming a full-time musician because you have to approach it like a full-time job to give what's necessary to even become excellent at what you do, let alone get anyone to take notice," she said.

"As for a big break, I thought I had it on Canadian national radio back in 2007 and at other moments since, but I've given up approaching my career like that.

"Best you can ask for is to have a fire for it and be able to find ways to keep at it, feast or famine.

"I suppose, it's probably nigh on impossible."

Drawing on unique access to Western intelligence agencies and insights into the most powerful technology companies, BBC Security Correspondent Gordon Corera explores the new space in which the worlds of espionage, diplomacy, international business and technology collide.

New Peugeot 308 GTi launches with a bang on fireworks night

THE first deliveries of the new Peugeot 308 GTi go out on a date to remember - November 5.

An acronym of Grand Tourer Injection, the letters GTi feature on high-power Peugeots like its latest, a 1.6-litre THP petrol engine.

The new 308 GTi is also available in two power outputs, the 250bhp and 270bhp – boosting the car to 155mph.

REVIEW: Peugeot 308 GTi

By James Richings

Both versions weigh 1,205kg, meaning it can to sprint to 62mph in 6.2 seconds, while the 308 GTi 270 can reach 62mph in six seconds.

Its suspension sits 11mm lower to the ground than any other 308 model in the past and the new design includes a restyled front and rear.

The car comes in 'Ultimate Red', 'Pearlescent White', 'Magnetic Blue', 'Nera Black', 'Cumulus Grey' and 'Hurricane Grey'.

Inside the door sills have the Peugeot Sport and GTi signature, while the foot pedals, foot rest and gear knob are finished in aluminium, with red stitching on the upholstery, door panels, gear lever and premium floor mats.

The Peugeot Sport race-inspired seats are furnished in leather giving the car a very mean look.

Pressing the sport button on the centre console switches the display colour from white to red, and shows extra information on the central read-out.

It also enhances engine noise growl and changes the accelerator pedal mapping.

The car also comes with an aggressive looking grill, sports side skirts, new twin exhaust system with black diffuser, GTi badging, full LED headlamps, front LED sequential indicators, reversing camera, front and rear parking sensors, keyless entry and push button start, satellite navigation and DAB digital radio.

Graham praised by players after move

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD United star Jordan Graham has the backing of his teammates with talks over keeping the Wolves loanee at the Kassam Stadium past his 28-day move currently on-going.

Graham made his debut in the stunning 2-0 win over Swindon Town last Tuesday in which he sent fans home purring with his play down the wing.

The 20-year-old has caught the eye of his team-mate Sam Baldock, with the defender claiming "he can be as good as he wants to be."

The duo linked-up well in the 1-0 win over AFC Wimbeldon at the Kassam Stadium last Saturday, with the right-back grabbing the winning goal with ten minutes left to play.

Baldock said after the game: "We didn't realise he was going to be that good when he came in. He is quite a lively character and he took us back a bit when he first arrived.

"He can be as good as he wants to be and we're very happy to have someone with his talents at the club."

Graham was one of the highlights for United in the win and the winger said that he didn't really expect the standard of football in League Two to be at such a high standard.

He said: "When I got here I had no idea how quality the football would be, I mean I come from the Championship and it's very close to the same standard that you would see by some of these players on the pitch.

"I didn't get much game time at Wolves but since I got here I've been really taken back by the fans, especially during Swindon, and the general atmosphere at the club.

"I'm feeling confident and I'm raring to go at this club however long I end up staying here."

The winger had just played 40 minutes of first-team football before he arrived at the Kassam Stadium two weeks ago.

The U's contacted Wolves shortly after his arrival, with talks on extending his move believed to still be ongoing.

Up next for Graham and United is an enticing encounter at Leyton Orient on Saturday followed by a crunch game with league leaders, Plymouth Argyle.

Injuries undo Chinnor in Redruth defeat

CHINNOR were counting the costs of injuries after they suffered their sixth successive defeat at Redruth on Sunday in a 34-32 result.

The visitors had more than 20 players out of the game through injury and unavailability but Robbie Martey sent them off to a flier as he crossed early on.

Dave Mankee kicked a penalty for Redruth before Chinnor scored a second try through Bertie Hopkin, who then converted his effort.

The hosts then went in front after Luke Hattam and Tom Cowan-Dickie crossed,.

Chinnor's George Blewitt then cross for an unconverted try before Sam Person replied and Mankee converted the effort for a 22-17 score.

Redruth then stretched further in front with Shaun Buzza diving over and Mankee put the conversion through the posts.

Chinnor hit back through Blewitt and Will Millett with a successful conversion setting the game up for a tight finish with the scores at 29-29.

The hosts struck first as Cowan-Dickie just managed to scrape the ball over the line for a 34-29 score.

Chinnor then couldn't snatch the win despite another Hoskins penalty.

Plato misses title by just four points in BTCC season finale

JASON Plato was gracious in defeat as he lost the British Touring Car Championship title to rival Gordon Shedden in the final race at Brands Hatch on Sunday.

The Oxford driver dominated the final race of the season and for long periods looked like he was going to grab his third title before Shedden climbed to fourth to pip Plato to the title.

Plato won the season's climax in the nail-biting final race but it was not enough with his rival climbing all the way from nineteenth to secure the title.

The Team BMR driver had gone into the weekend trailing Shedden by 23 points and he finished the first race in fifth whilst Shedden finished sixth.

Plato's sixth-place finish in race two saw the lead cut to 12 points with Shedden finishing in 19th.

The driver tweeted after the event: "Gave it 100%...close again, no cigar again! Rock on 2016.

"Congrats GS (Gordon Shedden), truly a great scrap, high and lows right until the end. Enjoy your moment, thoroughly deserved."

The final standings saw the 48-year-old, who celebrated his birthday yesterday, finish on 344 points with Shedden wrapping up the title on 348 points.

The 2016 BTCC season starts next April.

United stay in title mix after Baldock screamer

By Loughlan Campbell

A LATE George Baldock winner kept Oxford United in the mix near the top of the Sky Bet League Two table in an intense affair at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday against AFC Wimbledon.

New signing Jordan Graham and United hotshot, Kemar Roofe put in a solid shift against the Dons but they simply couldn't find that magic spark in the final third for the majority of the game.

The Dons themselves battered the United goal from range on occasion and United hit the bar through Slocombe in the second-half when the game was looking like it was running out of steam.

However, Baldock was allowed to drift into space and his long-range effort managed to fly through the defence and into the Wimbledon net as United snatched the three points.

It was an intermittently dull affair in the first half with Graham and Roofe the only real bright spots for the U's.

Straight after the re-start Roofe burst through the middle but his through ball to Hylton was just tipped away from the striker's right leg as he ran into the box.

A mazing run from Roofe led him to chipping it in the box to Taylor, who played in Sercombe, whose shot hammered off the crossbar in a fantastic chance in the 52nd minute.

Adebayo Akinfenwa then put the ball over the top from six yards out in a dangerous bit of play from The Dons with twenty minutes to go .

It wasn't until the 80th minute that George Baldock was allowed space on the far right and he coasted in to lash a shot from range, which just crept into the far right hand corner of Shea's net, sealing the win.

Chapman grabs podium finish on final day

OXFORD'S Matt Chapman secured his maiden podium in the final race of the Ginetta Junior Championship season at Brands Hatch Grand Prix on Sunday.

Chapman has been hampered by misfortune on multiple occasions in his races over the course of the season but finally got his reward with a third-place finish in round 20.

The 15-year-old also posted the fastest lap of the race and his haul for the weekend elevated him into the championship top ten.

He said after the race: "I'm really happy. At the start of the weekend it really didn't look like we'd be in a position to try and be on the podium.

"It looked like we'd be mid-pack, as we were involved in some contact and ended up ninth in race one.

"We knew we could go somewhere from ninth on the grid in race two, but we didn't know we'd get to the podium. Fastest lap was a bonus too, it feels so good to get my first podium and we can feel confident now for whatever we do next year."

Chapman began race two on the fifth row of the grid but went on to set the fastest lap with a time of 1 minute 48.140 seconds.

Fifth defeat in a row for Wantage

WANTAGE Town suffered their fifth league defeat in a row in a 2-0 defeat to Cinderford Town at Alfredian Park on Saturday.

It was a positive start for Daniel Barry's side before Cinderford's Joe Parker just shot wide off the target.

Six minutes later, Lee Smith shot from just 20 yards out in an effort that just clipped round the left hand post.

The Freds started to find ways into the game and Nick Thorne shot wide after the ball fell to him from Matthew Clarke's free kick.

Just five minutes into the second half, Cinderford got their first goal with Joe Parker calmly slotting the ball into the net past Edward Cavanagh.

The Freds continued to apply the pressure on the visitors and captain Stuart Cattell sought to prevent any more leakages in the defence.

Barry's boys were still pushing for their equaliser when they were unluckily punished after Joe Parker slotted home Cinderford's second.

Millers hold heads high despite cup blow to higher league team

MARK Gee's dominating North Leigh side were undone in the FA Cup on Saturday at Chesham United in a 2-0 defeat.

The Millers were able to match their opponents, who play in the league above, all through the ninety minutes but were unable find the net.

The first-half was evenly split with both sides forcing chances at either ends as Leigh 'keeper James Foster kept out Ryan Blake on 39 minutes whilst Morgan Williams dominated his marker Toby Little down the left.

The second-half saw Chesham play the ball with a little bit more verve but Leigh were unlucky not to snatch the opener when Aaron Woodley hit the bar after beating Chesham 'keeper George Legg with a chip.

Woodley was then fouled in the penalty area but no penalty was given as the game became heated and captain Wayne Turk was booked.

The referee then gave Chesham a penalty on 83 minutes when a Chesham striker was brought down and Dave Pearce converted the spot kick.

Leigh attempted to push forward but were then subsequently caught out three minutes later as Pearce slotted home his second which made it impossible for Leigh to recover in time.

Up next from the Millers are Larkhall Athletic at Eynsham Park on Saturday with Mark Gee's side still sitting at the top of the table on with 24 points having played nine games in the league so far.

City crash out to Bognor in cup test

HIGH-FLYING Oxford City were brought back down to earth with a bump after they crashed out of the Emirates FA Cup with a disappointing 4-2 defeat at lower-league Bognor Regis Town.

City had led twice in the first half of the third qualifying round tie, thanks to a Grant Smith own goal and Jose Lapoujade's header but couldn't hold the lead in the exciting tussle.

Bradley Bubb's cross was fumbled in to the net by goalkeeper Smith in the 13th minute with City dominating possession.

However Bognor struck back with five minutes left in the first half as City 'keeper Laurie Walker spilled a cross and Bognor's Doug Tick lurched forward only to be tripped by Oxford's Alejandro-Adrian Santiago.

Walker managed to get a hand to the effort but the net bulged, though, Oxford soon hit back with Lapoujade heading home a free-kick at the far post.

Bognor's equaliser came on 72 minutes as substitute Alex Parsons barrelled the ball into the net and just three minutes later; he gave his side the lead.

City looked shell-shocked and couldn't recover as their defensive frailties came back to haunt them with Jason Prior slotting in the fourth and killer goal.

UNITED MAKE IT TWO IN A ROW

A BRACE from Kieron Cochrane and an effort from George Reid sealed Abingdon United's progression into the next round of the Hellenic League Floodlit Cup with a 3-1 win over Henley Town at the Northcourt on Tuesday.

The victory means it's now two consecutive wins for Steve Alman's side who beat bottom-of-the-table Wokingham & Emmbrook 2-0 at the Northcourt on Saturday.

United have managed to score five goals in two games, which will be seen as a big bonus after failing to score in the four previous games.

United are 18th in the Hellenic League Premier taking eleven points from fifteen matches, having played five games more than 19th placed Bracknell Town.

The U's started their tussle with Wokingham at the weekend looking lethargic and tired after a long stretch of games and poor results.

The away side dominated the opening of the game with Elliot Rushforth forcing Abingdon's Jack Griffiths into making a smart save.

Both sides were lacking confidence in front of goal but United were offered the opportunity to calm their nerves after George Reid was brought down in the area on the stroke of half time.

However, Reid's effort was easily saved by Sean Woodward with the game looking poor from Abingdon's perspective.

Steve Alman's side came out far more determined in the second-half, and United broke the deadlock with twenty minutes to go after Jake Wright managed to keep a long ball in play before setting up Reid who fired home.

Wokingham sought to hit back immediately with Sam Duffelen just firing wide and Rushforth's effort in front of an open goal was just turned wide at the last moment as Abingdon were holding on at the back.

United finally managed the game to bed when Reid was put through from a free kick and he beat the on-rushing goalkeeper to slide home.

The visitor's Dom White had United fan's hearts in the mouths in the dying seconds however, as he scraped an effort just a foot over the bar before the referee called time.

Up next for United is an away fixture against Royal Wootton Bassett in the Hellenic Premier on Saturday.
